Come and enjoy

the peace and tranquility of a remote island
getaway...

A mysterious past has done little to taint the glorious appeal of the Four Season Resort, located in northeast Marinette County near Pembine, Wisconsin. The resort was originally built as the Miscauno Inn in 1905. A devastating fire burned it to ashes in 1923, and it was rebuilt as the Four Seasons Club in 1925 around the remains of the original fireplace. This magnificent icon still stands tall on Miscauno Island in the middle of the Menominee River, reached only by a hundred year old, one-lane bridge.

The Four Seasons Resort staff invite you to be our guest - experience the grandeur of the past, and create your own new memories.
